SABOTAGE CUTS POWER SUPPLY IN PITTSBURGH

Bullet Damages Transformer; Strikers Vote Today on Union Affiliation.

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—(AP)—The strikebound Duquesne Light company announced a high-powered bullet was fired into a large outdoor transformer today, reducing the supply of electricity of the Pittsburgh industrial area.

It was the third instance of sabotage recorded by police in the 22-day-old power strike.

The company said the shooting occurred at its Colfax station near suburban Springdale.

A spokesman for the firm said no one saw the shot fired but that "the bullet went through the transformer."

"This cut out a large portion of the load and required switching of a considerable number of circuits," he said.

"Sections in the area were without current from four to 15 minutes. A large portion of the total load was lost, which means that consumers all through the Pittsburgh area will have to conserve current more strictly than ever.

Workers Go to Polls.

More than half of the 3,200 members of the Independent Association of Employes of the company now in the fourth week of a strike has made 50,000 workers idle, go to the polls today to decide whether they want to change their union affiliation.

Names of four unions appear on the ballot: The Independent Association, the UMW District 50, CIO Public Utility Workers and the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Engineers.

A clear majority is needed for one of the groups to be certified Should there be no such majority a run off election between the two unions receiving the highest number of votes would be ordered by the NLRB.

One of the biggest inconveniences of the strike was ended when street cars and buses resumed limited service last evening. They had been tied up 18 days after operators refused to cross power union picket lines.

Voting on the picket line issue for the third time, the street car and bus men yesterday balloted almost unanimously in favor of ignoring the picket lines and returning to work.

FROSTY AGAIN

Mercury Dips in County, But It's Going to Warm Up.

The frost was on the pumpkin again this morning in Richland county, and Mansfielders went to work in crisp October weather.

The mercury skidded to an official 43 degrees at Hayesville, but lower unofficial readings were reported in the Mansfield area.

Temperatures were rising today, and the weatherman said it would be generally fair tonight and Wednesday with warmer weather due Wednesday. Readings will be about normal or a little above until Friday, then slightly below, the forecast said

Family of 15 Put Out of Garage

TIFFIN—(AP)—Once the "highest paid buck private in the army," Nevin R. Haundenschild, 35, was hunting a home today for his wife and 13 children. He has just received orders to leave the garage where they have lived since May Haundenschild, who earned $320 monthly during his six months' army service, has paid no rent and took over the place without the owner's permission, explained Justice of the Peace Paul Ebel.

LADS MUST REGISTER

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Col. C. W. Goble, state director of selective service, said today that regardless of the war department's cancellation of all calls for the rest of the year, registration still was required of all males on reaching the age of 18.

GOP Replies to Truman Tonight

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Republicans will get their chance tonight to talk "meat politics" in rebuttal to President Truman. The Columbia Broadcasting System said it has offered its coast-to-coast facilities for a Republican spokesman—still to be designated—to reply to Mr. Truman's address last night. The broadcast is scheduled for 10 to 10:15 p. m. (E. S. T.)

Police To Put Clamp On Vandals

With vandalism reports to law enforcement officials increasing almost nightly, Police Chief Meade K. Bates and Sheriff Frank E. Robinson today warned of a "crack down" on youths who destroy property.

Both the sheriff's and police departments had four complaints of vandalism by teen-age youths last night. A number of boys were caught and at least five of them were cited to juvenile officers.

Declaring that "we will absolutely not stand for any property damage," Chief Bates warned that "any children caught in vandalistic acts resulting in property damage will definitely be brought into juvenile court."

DETAILS MORE OFFICERS IN COUNTY.

Sheriff Robinson expressed the same view and said he would detail extra deputies to tour the county in order to stamp out youthful vandalism.

"It won't make a bit of difference whose children I catch in acts of vandalism—they're all going into court. If the parents will only cooperate to a greater extent than they usually do we'll be able to hold property damage and menace to life to a minimum," the sheriff said.

Chief Bates also warned that parents will be held equally re-

DREAMBOAT HAS MOTOR FAILURE

Plane Forced to Turn Back in Attempt For Record.

PARIS—(AP)—The U. S. army's champion long-distance plane, the Pacusan Dreamboat, set out confidently for New York today in an assault on the Atlantic speed record, but returned to Paris less than three hours later with fouled sparkplugs.

The Army Transport Command base at Orly airfield said cigar-smoking Col. C. S. (Bill) Irvine and his crew might make another try for the record over the 3,600-mile route tomorrow.

At the takeoff today, Irvine said he expected the B-29 Superfortress to reach New York within "a little over 11 hours," to shatter a year-old record now claimed by a TWA Constellation of 14 hours and 39 minutes.

To do that, throttles on the Superfort's four mighty engines would have to be open most of the way. The Dreamboat is capable of more than 400 miles per hour.

It flew its great trans-polar region flight of 9,500 miles from Honolulu to Cairo in 39 hours and 35 minutes at an average speed of 240 miles through atrocious weather earlier this month. Irvine said that was the fastest time on any flight approaching that distance

Ground crews found sparkplugs faulty on the No 4 engine and the crew reported dissatisfaction with the No. 3 engine.

Irvine said he was ready to start again as soon as the trouble was corrected "and the weather permits."

SNOOZES A BIT

CINCINNATI—(INS)—A modern Rip Van Winkle came to light in Cincinnati today. In suing for—and winning—a divorce, Mrs. Laura Mae Rooks, 27, told the judge that her husband, when sought for being AWOL from his army camp, told her he had fallen asleep in a theater—and had slept there for 11 days!

EARLY HARVEST: "Shep" may look pretty bored about the whole thing, but Robert Miller, four-year-old grandson of C. L. Miller, looks as pleased as his grandfather feels over the newly harvested corn on the Miller farm west of Lexington. Miller, who planted this year's corn on 73 acres before April 25, said this is the sixth time in his 42 years of farming that he has been able to plant corn that early. He estimated that it would yield at least 65 bushels an acre. Miller is harvesting early with his two sons, Donald and C. K., both of whom live in the Lexington area. Robert is the son of Donald Miller.

Nazis Turn To Bible As Trail's End Nears

NUERNBERG—(UP)—Hermann Goering, Joachim von Ribbentrop and nine more of Nazidom's top war criminals neared the end of the road today, and by all signs will begin their march to the gallows at midnight (6 p. m. EST).

All of the condemned Nazis save one—Alfred Rosenberg, the chief Nazi ideologist—were reported reading the Bible and seeking spiritual solace as their last hours ticked away.

The twilight of the self-aggrandized Nazi "gods" found them obscured by a curtain of military secrecy comparable to that flung over the greatest events of the war

Burials Secret.

Glimmers of information through the official fog indicated that the execution of Adolf Hitler's 11 henchmen would begin at midnight and last three hours, and that the bodies would be buried secretly or perhaps cremated—how, when or where no one would say.

Officials said that the Nazis did not know officially that this was their last day before they were to pay on the scaffold for the millions of deaths they were convicted of causing in their ruthless quest for world domination.

But they must have known that the time was near when the judgment of the four-power tribunal was to be executed.

COMPOSER ILL

HOLLYWOOD —(UP)— Walter Donaldson, 58, composer of "My Blue Heaven" and numerous other song hits, was critically ill today at his Malibu Beach home. He was divorced two years ago by Actress Walda Mansfield, who was granted custody of their two daughters.

THIRD VICTIM DIES

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The crash of two tractor-trailer units in Union county, near New California, on Oct. 5 claimed its third victim today with the death in University hospital of Richard Winkler, 23, of Peru, Ind.

Apology Fixed It, Anyway

When Miss Marjorie Leonard, 171 South Foster street, added an apologetic "Better late than never" note to a birthday card last Dec. 29 she didn't know how late her card was going to be.

It arrived yesterday, and no one seems to know what happened to it. The card was addressed to Mrs. Harry Houck, Helen avenue, whose birthday was Dec. 25.

Another greeting card, also mailed Dec. 29, also reached Mrs. Houck yesterday. She said the cards apparently were lost in the mail

U. S. Ship Tieup Hurts Philippines

MANILA —(INS)— A Philippine government spokesman declared today that the Philippine islands face a probable famine unless the American shipping strike ends and food shipments are resumed.

Arthur Tanco, manager of the National Rice and Corn commission, said that 400,000 tons of rice were allocated to the Philippines for the last half of 1946 by the International Food council but that no shipments have been received since the start of the strike.

FUND DRIVE OFF TO GOOD START

Workers Report $18,750 First Day of Campaign.

First day's receipts from the Community Fund campaign totaled $18,750 with industry making up two-thirds of the pledges at noon today.

Contributions represented advance gifts made by national corporations located here and by industries. At noon, industry in the city had pledged $12,760 and the up-town division, $5,990.

Today's gifts left $75,317 of the $94,067 goal to be pledged.

W. E. Slabaugh, jr., general chairman of the drive, announced that four more industrial plants have raised the total to 11 factories which have pledged their quotas in the campaign. They are: Tappan Stove company, Hughes-Keenan company, Art Rattan Works, Inc., and Farm Tools, Inc

Slabaugh said that several others had made verbal pledges, but that pledge cards for these concerns have not been received at the office

Donald G. Ogden and Howard Richards, co-chairmen of the industrial division, indicated that pledges from larger industrial plants in the city would not be received until the latter part of the week.

Meanwhile, more than 300 workers, began distribution of thousands of pledge cards in their divisions today.

GRAFTER LOSES LIFE

SHANGHAI —(UP)— The chief of Shanghai's gendarmes, Chiang Kung-Mei, one of the first Chinese officials to return here after the Japanese surrender, was executed by a firing squad today He was convicted of corruption and graft-taking after police found him living royally off immense stocks of seafood and cold storage supplies left behind by the Japanese.

POPULATION OF 100,000 HELD LIKELY

Officials See Clear Fork Project Doubling City's Industrial Capacity.

A possible population of 100,000 and an industrial capacity twice its present size is what city officials see for Mansfield once the million dollar Clear Fork project "opens for business."

In addition, Mansfielders will no longer be dogged by that annual, summer-time cry: "go easy on the water." There'll be ample water for everything from lawn sprinklings to bird bathing.

Although that rosy picture is two years off, the first tangible step to make it come true will be taken tomorrow. It's then that the first work is to start on the project's $425,000 dam.

* * *

Welcome Industry.

Already Chamber of Commerce officials are rubbing their hands together in anticipation of the "open arms" policy with which they'll be able to welcome new industry once the Clear Fork is finished.

Says C. of C. Secretary-Manager John Routzon: "Once new water starts to flow in Mansfield's veins we'll be able to go out after new businesses."

The secretary-manager said that added water supply—some 10 to 15 million gallons a day—will enable the city to further develop its "best stock in trade," that of diversification

Tomorrow Contractor Roger J. Au is to begin stripping operations at the dam site. The dam is scheduled to be completed some 270 days hence — discounting days when weather makes work impossible

Then comes the wait for the reservoir to fill and the completion of the first purification unit. Not all of the units will be built at the same time. They'll go up as the city's water needs increase

SLAVS BOYCOTT PEACE PARLEY

Tito's Delegation Refuses to Attend Final Session.

BULLETIN

PARIS—(AP)—The Paris peace conference officially ended at 5:28 p. m. (11:28 a. m. Eastern Standard time) today.

PARIS — (INS)— Yugoslavia boycotted the final session of the Paris peace conference today in protest against so-called "ruthless" voting methods and to force alterations in the Italian draft treaty.

Observers expressed firm conviction that the Yugoslav decision not to attend the closing plenary session was taken with full Soviet approval, and gives Russian Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov a new weapon to oppose vital sections of the Italian treaty.

Molotov has threatened use of the Soviet veto in the Big Four Foreign Ministers Council which meets Nov 4 at New York for the purpose of concluding debate on the peace pacts for Italy, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Finland.

In its note to the conference chairman, Yugoslavia—which has repeatedly warned it will sign no treaty it considers unfavorable—declared:

"We can not take part in the final meeting of the conference, and can not participate in forwarding recommendations of the conference to the council at foreign ministers."

Quo Tai Chi, conference chairman, notified the puzzled assembly—which included the 20 other delegations—that the Yugoslavs would not sit in on the closing session to exchange diplomatic compliments.

NO TROUBLE AT ALL

DELAWARE —(UP)— Veterans living at the Oak Hill barracks at Ohio Wesleyan University today enjoyed the lack of dining room facilities at Oak Hill They are forced to eat their meals at Stuyvesant Hall, the girls' dormitory. University officials have received no protests so far.

Expect Steaks On Tables By This Week-End

Mansfield Dealers Say Prices May Jump 10 to 15 Per Cent for Few Weeks Then Drop Sharply as Market Becomes Competitive Again.

BULLETIN

Milk will go up to 20 cents a quart here tomorrow, Dr. W. B. Wild, city-county health commissioner, today said he was informed by the city's major dairymen. The two-cents-a-quart increase is being made to keep milk from going into the Cleveland area where it is now selling for 20 cents a quart, Wild said.

Jubilant Mansfield meat dealers, freed from OPA restrictions by presidential order today, predicted that steak would return to family dinner tables this week-end, and that ham would be added to the menu within two weeks.

They said: "Prices may go up 10 to 15 per cent for a week or two, but a competitive market will kick them back to moderate levels within a short time."

Decontrol of meat was announced last night by President Truman as the "only alternative" to a five weeks' meat famine which swept throughout the nation.

"You bet we're happy about it," was the unanimous comment from nine local dealers canvassed today.

R. D. Samsel, bookkeeper for the Kearns' Packing company which has been closed part time for the past three weeks, said, "We've been waiting for this break. It hadn't come we would have had to close down altogether and lay our men off."

Three weeks ago, Samsel asserted that the packing company was able to supply only two per cent of its regular customers. The house normally supplies meat to 50 per cent of local markets

"It will probably be a week before meat becomes plentiful again," Samsel continued. "But, I think we'll be able to supply some meat to dealers by the end of this week."

* * *

Praises Public.

A spokesman for the Lima Packing company predicted that meat would start flowing to the city "as soon as it's killed and cooled"

Philip Wilging, owner of the Wilging meat market, said: "The public has done a swell job to get OPA off meat," he said. "We'll have meat and it will be moderately priced."

A spokesman for Brunn's meat market said he felt as if the "shackles had been removed." He added "You can come down to your market now and operate it the way you want to. I think we'll have enough meat to take care of all our customers this week-end."

A Waldman market spokesman commented. "Maybe we can stay open now and make ends meet."

Speaking of a possible price inflation in meat markets, a spokesman for the Lehman market said: "I know prices won't go as high as people have been paying lately WHEN they could get meat. Steak at $1.50 per pound and hamburg at 90 cents is not saleable at regular markets.

"This way it's going to be fairer for everybody."

A meat market employe at the Lahm's Roadside market agreed that meat prices would not hike more than 10 to 15 per cent.

Truman Ends Controls To Halt Meat Crisis

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman tossed meat price controls out the window today as the "only remedy" for the nation-wide shortage

The chief executive to the tune of Democrats' applause and criticism, Republican taunts and industry jubilation - also signalled an earlier end to virtually the whole series of wartime restrictions, except those over rents.

Mr Truman said the removal of ceilings on items other than meat will be speeded up and this will hasten the end of wage controls

Sharply reversing his previous stand, the president told the nation the "real blame" for his actions "lies at the door of the reckless group of selfish men who, in the hope of gaining political advantage, have encouraged sellers to gamble on the destruction of price control."

Speaking in a nation-wide broadcast last night, three weeks before the congressional elections, Mr. Truman said that OPA and the agriculture department would formally scrap the meat price lids today. Their action was all that was required to make the elimination of controls legally effective.

He made no party line distinction between Republican and Democratic foes of OPA.

All the alternatives to removal of controls were carefully considered, Mr Truman said before he came to his conclusion.

Less than three weeks ago he had been confident that the meat supply would improve "in the near future," and he expressed firm opposition to removal of controls

Ohio Welcomes Move To Discard Price Lid

(By Associated Press)

Leading Ohioans welcomed President Truman's removal of the clamps on meat today but Republican figures termed it "too late" while Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche called upon the people to impose voluntary restraints on themselves to assure a fair share of meat for all.

Ohio's senior senator, Republican Robert A. Taft, of Cincinnati who has been in some fast controversies with the president over the general price control program, said, "all the president is asking is what I've been urging them to do all along" John W. Bricker, Republican nominee to join Taft in the senate, added, "if controls had been removed before, prices on meat would be less than they are now and there would be plenty of meat, too."

In Washington Rep Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester, campaign director of the Republican National committee, commented, "It demonstrates Mr. Truman's uner-

Nearly 4,000 Jam Coliseum to Dance At Annual Mansfield Police Ball

By JOHN MINE

Nearly 4,000 pairs of tired feet today attest to the fact that a "good time was had by all" at the Mansfield policemen's ball last night.

Said one blue coat who helped stage the 13th annual ball last night at the Coliseum: "They just wouldn't stop dancing; they stayed on the floor even during intermission and danced to organ music"

Heading the ball's annual feature —the grand march —were Mayor and Mrs. Roy W. Vaughn and Service-Safety Director and Mrs. William W. Enlow. They were followed by department members and hundreds of other dancers.

Police Chief Meade K. Bates was unable to attend the party. He was unexpectedly called to Columbus last night on departmental business.

But more than 3,500 Mansfielders and area residents, plus dozens of law enforcement officials from many miles around helped to push the ball over the top

Among the guests were police department representatives from Cleveland, Federal Bureau of Investigation officers, and state highway patrolmen.

Jimmy Joyce's 13-piece band provided the music for dancing from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m. The ball is sponsored to provide funds for child safety work here and for practice ammunition for the department.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves, instead, they are likely, if neglected, to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in the back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

'Reasonable' Meat Prices Promised

REMOVAL of government price controls on livestock and processed meats, effective today, provides a fine opportunity to demonstrate the practicability of free enterprise as a means of serving the best interests of ALL the people, rather than the selfish interests of a relatively few.

It was with obvious reluctance, mingled with political recrimination, that President Truman last night announced reversal of his previous stand against removal of meat price controls and threw open the door for whatever may come in the way of price adjustments to restore a balance between supply and demand.

He called attention, however, to the months of pressure by livestock and meat processing interests for lifting of controls from their products and said they had made a definite promise that this action would bring additional meat to market AT REASONABLE PRICES.

It now remains to be determined whether or not this highly desirable end can be accomplished—with emphasis on "reasonable prices"—for if it immediately appears that removal of restraint merely opens the way for inordinate greed to become the dominating factor in production and distribution of meat—as has sometimes appeared—the road toward disastrous inflation will have been broadened by this concession, rather than any actual good accomplished.

Responsibility for avoidance of runaway inflation in meat prices is placed squarely on producers, packers and retail outlets, and, in the broader field of the entire national economy, it is asked that industry, business and labor co-operate in bringing about full production, so that prices can be brought to sound levels based on equalizing supply and demand.

In all fairness, ability to buy at high prices ought not be permitted to play a part in equalizing the distribution of present inadequate meat supplies, and those who have ample funds with which to buy at exorbitant prices should be willing to reduce their purchases until supply more nearly reaches demand, so that those in lower income groups may not be deprived of meat really needed for maintenance of the health of themselves and their children.

And a return of the practice of ASKING THE PRICE, per pound, of meat is advised, so that tab can be kept on just what is being done along this line, now that controls have been removed.

Ohioana Award To Louis Bromfield

FOR THOSE who may not have learned the significance of the Ohioana award, just received by Louis Bromfield, it may be explained that this is a part of the Ohioana Library association's activities, which takes this means of conferring recognition on Ohio's outstanding writers and musicians.

The Ohioana library, maintained in Columbus, includes nearly 6,000 volumes by more than 3,000 writers, and the works of 250 Buckeye composers, and it is the aim of the association to add to this collection and to encourage other Ohio authors and composers by letting them know that their fellow-Buckeyes are proud of their achievements.

Inclusion of Louis Bromfield, a Mansfield product, is quite natural, in view of the high place he has attained as a writer, and it is interesting to note that it is two "close home" books, "The Farm" and "Pleasant Valley," that are most favorably mentioned in connection with the award.

Better Put Money In the Bank

STRONG argument against keeping any considerable amount of money around the house is found in the experience of a Mansfield woman who recently reported to police that several hundred dollars, mostly in dimes, had been stolen from her home.

Just why anyone should accumulate several hundred dollars in dimes is unexplained, as spread of such a practice would tend to throw the whole federal coinage system out of kilter.

However that may be, it appears that a part of the stolen money has been recovered and that police are on the lookout for the remainder.

Many may not yet understand that money deposited in a bank is insured up to $5,000 and that they run no risk of loss by putting their surplus money in a bank. Such a fear is the only thing that could explain keeping more money in the home than is needed to meet current expenditures—and don't hoard pennies, nickels or dimes.

Many By-Products of Meat Industry

SHORTAGE of the meat supply, for eating purposes, falls far short of telling the entire story of the penalties which this scarcity invokes. Lives of thousands are endangered by reduction in the supply of insulin, which, like many other pharmaceuticals, is a by-product of meat packing.

Industries with which packing is integrated run into the scores, and the soap shortage is explained by revealing that tallow, a meat product, makes up 50 to 70 per cent of the average bar of soap.

Complexities of modern production are given little attention when everything is running along smoothly, but when there is a failure of any part everyone is made painfully aware of the interdependence of many producers.

No Shortage of Moving Vans

ONE business is reported to have an over supply of equipment — the moving business. Though October 1 is the traditional moving day, movers did only one sixth the pre-war volume of business. Most families are staying put for another year because they have no alternative.

Warehouses, however, are almost at capacity with the household goods of families doubling up with relatives.

From an unidentified source comes a quotation that is especially applicable to Community Fund support: "Service is the rent we pay for our room on earth," which is quite the reverse of the idea that some hold: "The world owes me a living."

The meat shortage is worrying football enthusiasts who are beginning to wonder if there'll be enough pigskins to reach through the season.

An absent-minded reader inquires: "Just which week last summer was the straw hat season?"

One trouble is that everybody wants somebody else to do the cooperating.

TIME TO REPLENISH THE CHEST

Readers Express Varied Views On Pearson's Proposed Five-Year Plan

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Many people continue to write me about my 5-year plan for peace and friendship with Russia. Their letters, judged not only by volume but by contents, indicate that the American public is both thinking intensely and worrying about the problems of Russia. That in itself is a healthy sign.

The majority of the letters favor the proposed plan to win over the Russian people—regardless of their government — by an exchange of information, students, musical and theatrical programs, and by permitting one American radio station and newspaper to operate in Moscow with a reciprocal station and newspaper in New York.

Some reaction, however, has been negative and critical.

Most of the letters reveal such an interesting cross-section of the mind of the American public, that I am letting those who are thinking about Russia write today's column. Here are carefully selected samples of what the American public thinks about how we can avoid war with Russia.

"Russia Hiding Poverty."

Charles K. Coleman, Lyndhurst, N. J.—"I have been in the U. S. merchant service since 1922, during which time I have been to Russia five times. While there I noticed anything mechanical that came to view (I am a marine engineer). The vast majority of these machines were of foreign manufacture. The few machines that were unlabeled were obviously poor imitations of foreign products. Why then do you maintain that a country that is unable to compete with such small nations as Switzerland, Belgium, Sweden, etc., in world markets can possibly produce an atomic bomb, long-range jet-propelled planes, etc., in the short period of five or even ten years? Russia has never produced, with all her tremendous resources, one essential commodity that has found a market outside her own borders.

"My belief is that Russia is hiding nothing more dangerous than extreme poverty—and the Baltic states plus Czechoslovakia and Poland will provide acute indigestion to Russia for the next 50 years."

Would Adopt Russian.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Lewis, Sheffield, Ala.—"Let's start with your five-year plan at once. I will gladly take one Russian student into my home and keep him (or her) for nothing if need be while he is in this country. I'll teach him English and probably learn Russian in turn, and will, in every way, treat him as my own child. I'd be only too delighted if my two sons would go to Russia on a similar mission.

"I feel that no sacrifice would be too great to bring about a lasting friendship between our two great nations. My two sons came back unscathed . . . Millions of American boys would not have come back if it were not for 20 million Russian casualties."

Mrs. Catherine C. Anderson, New York City — "Your earnestness in working out a plan for getting along with Russia is commendable. However, it has one great big flaw. How are you going to get Stalin to adopt it?"

Walter P. Masincup, Washington, D. C.—"Why not have millions of Russians correspond with millions of Americans? This might be done under the supervision of the ministers of the churches in the two countries."

Edward S. Allen, Ames, Iowa—"The Soviet Union is clearly impelled by fear and by resentment at any inferiority of position. Cannot these feelings be allayed in such ways as not to increase Russia's power to do great harm? . . . Could we not offer demilitarization of Alaska on condition that a corresponding section of Siberia were likewise disarmed? . . . The logical answer of peace-loving nations would be a proposal to disarm and internationalize all essential straits and canals—Dardanelles, Gibraltar, Suez, Panama."

Respect For United States.

N. Sidrow, Washington, D. C.—"I spent eight months with Russian sailors in the capacity of instructor in radar and communication with the U. S. navy. After discharge, in order to learn more about the Russian people, I obtained a position with the Soviet purchasing commission.

"I find they are just plain people. They do not believe in diplomatic language because they do not understand it. I crossed this country twice as guide for a group of their engineers and really learned to know them . . . Russian people respect men who are true to their own country. By that I mean the men who defend the ideals of our government stand higher in their eyes than those who don't.

"I never met a Russian yet who did not have high respect for the U. S. They have highest admiration for our engineering and the way we do business. Unless I am a blind fool, these people are naturally friendly to us. They like direct conversations, and direct answers.

"For instance, they wanted me to ask some business and professional men, 'what type of education did you have?' They were very surprised when I told them that was not a proper question. They were amazed at the ease with which they get any information they want here, and at the way some of our so-called capitalists receive them. If only our government made an effort to get the American people to know the Russians, we would be so much better off!

"Mr. Pearson, our government has too many so-called experts on the Russian nation who don't know anything about Russia. We have either lovers or haters. What we need are Americans who are willing to exchange calls with Russia and yet be Americans also. This type of people will penetrate the Russian's inbred suspicion.

"In conclusion, Mr. Pearson, the American of an average type is in no danger of becoming Communist, but Russians risk a real danger of getting Americanized—oh, so easily!"

Mrs. A. C. Johnson, Lafayette, Calif.—"Mr. Stalin and his henchmen admire only two things in another country—military might, and rough, unvarnished statement of policy backed by that might. Paradoxical as it seems, there lies peace."

Mrs. J. L. Memory, Jr., Wake Forest, N. C. — "I believe most women's organizations—women's clubs, P. T. A., missionary unions, and such—would back you in putting over the plan."

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Friday, Oct. 15, 1926.

Plenty of meat Advertised items: Beef roasts, "tender, juicy chuck," 17 cents a pound; shoulder of beef, 18 cents a pound; sugar cured bacon, 30 cents a pound, and so on.

Roger Babson issued warning of danger in expansion of installment buying.

A. D. Caddell resigned office position with North American Watch company here to take executive position with Deuber Watch company in Canton.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fensch, 601 Springmill street.

Floyd G. Hugo, 22, of 99 West Third street, died following operation. He was a junior at OSU.

Miss Edith Yarnell was elected president of high school girls' band.

Members of high school faculty and girls of Senior Blue Tri club held "get acquainted" meeting at Y.W.C.A.

Son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Haldeman, 497 West Fourth street.

* * *

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

Rev. Charles A. Barry resigned pastorate of Park Avenue Baptist church.

Dave Boone Says:

THE president's Monday night broadcast was set for 10 p. m. in the hope that most of the nation would have finished its vegetable soup by then and be ready for a little meat.

* * *

Improvement in the situation should not be expected immediately . . . Few presidents have brought home the bacon in one speech.

* * *

There seems to be some confusion on the public attitude toward the shortage . . . Perhaps we should explain that we would rather have the meat first and the explanations later.

* * *

The question of the day is, "What can you find to broil on a fireside chat?"

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

WHEN I asked my butcher if he had any meat and he heplied, "No comment," that wasn't so bad. What hurt was that when I inquired, "What about that pork chop you promised me six months ago?" he looked at me sternly and said, "I was misquoted."

* * *

I don't get that ruling of a regional OPA chief that the Long Island businessman who wanted to give the meat to his workers free can't do it because he "is not normally engaged in any act related to the production of meat."

* * *

Related to the production of meat? Gosh anybody who can get 38 head of cattle for immediate distribution, without charge, is the country's outstanding producer.

Just Not Enough Meat, That's Real Trouble.

WASHINGTON — President Truman talked to the nation last night on the meat shortage situation, but nothing he said will alter two established facts:

1—No miracle- administration or otherwise—can, at this point, put plenty of meat on the nation's tables immediately.

2—Neither farmers nor ranchers are solely or selfishly to blame for the shortage.

There is nothing new or controversial about either of those points. It is easy to see why.

Regardless of where the fault lies, the fact remains that there simply isn't the normal amount of marketable beef and pork on the hoof in the nation's feedlots and pastures today.

Furthermore, it will be many months before that situation can possibly be remedied. And until then, the steaks and pork chops simply are going to be missing from your menu!

Although part of this shortage understandably was caused by the confusion over price controls, most of it pre-dates that problem.

In Kansas City, two months ago, countless cowmen told this correspondent that the big beef rush (then in progress during the OPA recess) was made possible by "the Good Lord as well as the OPA."

What did they mean? Well, the Good Lord brought an early spring to the long-grass country out there across the flint hills and osage ranges between the Kaw river in Kansas and the Arkansas river in Oklahoma.

Bulk of the inbound beef to the Kansas City stockyards during the big rush came from that blue stem sector where the old-time Texas drovers used to put the last layer of fat on their trail herds enroute to the big midwestern market.

The early spring made it possible for the herds to hit the stockyards during the OPA recess, but—and this is a point much overlooked—old-time cowmen said they undoubtedly would have flooded the market early this year, anyway.

Major damage done during that recess was that, because of the uncertain prospects, stockmen did not replenish their herds, flocks and droves with replacement buying as they normally would have done.

Now, according to reports from the midwest and southwest, they are beginning to do so, but still it will be many months before the feeding of that late-bought replacement stock can ready it for the butcher's market.

Another much-overlooked point is this: some time back, a 30-cent bonus over the OPA ceiling price was offered for all corn that farmers would deliver to elevators to the government's account during a specified period. Figure out for yourself what happened.

Farmers with livestock on hand which should have been fed much longer were forced, through reasons of good business, to sell that livestock prematurely because they could not afford to feed it corn at that price.

Finally, what so many people seem to overlook is that during the recent war years, farmers and cattlemen answered the nation's plea for greatest production just as energetically as people responded everywhere—and they didn't ask what their profit would be.

Today, the war is over, and those same livestock producers are hearing the government's plea for more production.

But they're just as tired as anyone else, and hence not so willing to work their heads off producing more meat for your table unless they can be assured of some sort of profit.

In short, there simply is not enough normally marketable meat available today to meet the demand, and while some administrative action—such as altering controls—may ease the situation somewhat, it can not completely cure the current crisis.

California Democrats Split By Strife.

LOS ANGELES—It is hard for Democrats to realize that Franklin D. Roosevelt is no more, and to adjust themselves. In the state of Washington, for example, Democr atsmenitoen crats mentioned Mr. Roosevelt seven times in their platform, Harry Truman not once.

California was perhaps the most conspicuous Roosevelt state, that is, in the fervor of personal devotion among his followers.

Depression hit this state heavily, particularly in this southern end. Here the nostrums, with their clever quacks, attracted the destitute of those days—Upton Sinclair's epic movement (end poverty in California); the Townsend Old Age pension; ham and eggs. Here the New Deal remedies were most efficacious and FDR became a veritable god.

In addition to the loss of Mr. Roosevelt, Democrats in California got a shocking blow in the primary this year when Earl Warren, the Republican governor, overwhelmed their own candidate, Attorney General Bob Kenny, and won Democratic as well as Republican nominations for governor in the peculiar cross-filing system here that confuses people in other states. Furthermore prosperity has returned to California. Now people want things, as elsewhere.

Continued government regulation is irksome. Just now that meat shortage is the biggest handicap to Democrats, so they have asked Secretary Anderson, among others to come here and try to explain it away.

The Democratic party is torn, likewise, into bitter factional strife among its conservatives, its New Dealers, and left wing that is more virile and influential than anywhere else outside of New York.

They are using FDR, as everywhere else, but here they have a Roosevelt in the flesh to help, Jimmy Roosevelt. He was picked as state chairman last July and has done a remarkable job of organizing, crusading, and pulling dissident factions into something approaching cohesion though not entrely that by any means.

As their candidate for a senate seat, Democrats have another name figure, Will Rogers, jr., who served most of a term in the house before going into service.

He is less a counterpart of his famous father than Jimmy of his. Instead of the slow, casual manner and wisdom of his father, young Will has a sort of St. Vitus nervous energy, physically and mentally. This is accentuated somewhat perhaps by the necessity of trying to please all factions of his party. He is never quietly in the middle of the stage, calmly chewing gum. He is all over it, now right, now left.

His rival is young, personable and aggressive Senator William F. (Bill) Knowland. He is a war veteran with a fine record, the son of Joe Knowland, Oakland publisher and one-time Republican party leader. Bill Knowland, who was appointed by Gov. Warren to the senate seat left vacant by the death of Hiram Johnson, started off with a handicap of not being well-known in the state. He has been trying to overcome this by an extensive campaign.

Will Rogers, jr., begins with the advantage of name. It is said that lots of people will vote for him because of that, some perhaps under the impression it's his father.

Newspaper polls in this state show an astounding lack of interest in politics this year and an amazing lack of knowledge of who is running for what, and why.

Despite the apathy Young Will and Jimmy have been drawing good crowds.

Republicans have an advantage in the lack of a contest for governor, for Earl Warren, blasting from the Hustings, would help whip up interest.

Changing Trend Noticeable In Ohio.

COLUMBUS—A month ago, or even two weeks ago, the story in Ohio was quite a different one. Then it seemed fairly certain that popular Democratic Governor Frank Lausche would be re-elected; and his popularity was counted on to help weaker candidates on the Democratic ticket.

Now, if the polls can be believed, such a marked Republican trend has set in that Lausche himself seems likely to go under. Even some leading Democrats, when they talk privately, admit their gloom.

The trouble about the polls is that they show such a great change in the past month that they can scarcely be believed.

They show that Lausche has lost strength rapidly in the industrial areas which he must count on for heavy majorities in order to win. In certain sections of Cleveland, where his majority two years ago was 68 per cent, he leads today by only 53 per cent.

Polls have been wrong before and they can be wrong again. But something is happening here which may mean a Republican sweep, with the Democrats losing one senate seat and at least three seats in the house.

Lausche, who has never placed much reliance on the Democratic organization, has for the past two years found himself in a political box, surrounded on all sides by a Republican legislature. On a statewide scale, it's like the position in which President Truman will find himself if the Republicans win control of the house this fall.

Lausche's record as governor does not appear in too favorable a light, even when the difficulties of his position are considered. Elected in 1944 with the blessing of President Roosevelt, and regarded, outside the state at least, as a Liberal, he has tried to move toward the right. At the same time, the left-wing faction in the CIO-PAC has embarrassed him with impossible demands.

As a middle-of-the-roader, Lausche has found few supporters on the right and he has lost adherents on the left. His accomplishments, such as somewhat improving the fearful conditions in Ohio's medieval asylums, tend to be obscured.

The way seems cleared for reaction. The question is how far the pendulum will swing. If you take Ohio's two leading Republicans as a measuring road, the answer is: A long way.

On domestic issues, former Gov. John Bricker would go back to the pre-New Deal era. In this, he is far to the right of Sen. Robert A. Taft, who stands for a minimum program of social reform.

On foreign policy, Taft seems to be taking a line that leads back to American isolation. His recent attack on the verdict at Nuernberg is a straw in that wind.

It was not so much his belief that the verdict was immoral as that he should have waited until the trials were over before speaking out in violent denunciation of the war-guilt principle.

Far more extraordinary is the speech Taft made a month ago at the Republican state convention. His tone was one of fussy perfectionism, with the strong implication that we should stand on principle and turn our backs on the sordid quarrels of the rest of the world.

He accused both Truman and Roosevelt of "appeasing" Russia. That appeasement, said Taft, has "only helped to build up the greatest totalitarian state the world has ever seen . . ." Election of a "New Deal congress" in November would lead to further appeasement of Russia, he said.

Calvin A. Byers

Farmer's Diary: "As One GI Views It."

A YOUNG GI, whom I know, is getting his education.

"Last spring I got married. My wife and I found a house to rent in the country. We bought a cow, raised three dozen white leghorn hens and planted a half acre of garden. I bought a used car for almost the price of a new one, in order to ride back and forth to work and to school—for I aimed to use the government's aid toward a college education.

"At first I worked four hours a day, and I had $95 a month toward college, but when I paid rent, and clothes and gas and upkeep for the car—and doctor bills (we hope for a baby soon)—I was going in the red, or not having enough to eat. Finally I have succeeded in getting on the night trick at a factory. That suits much better, so far as finances go—but I take four engineering subjects and there's not much time for study. I have classes on Saturday, and if company comes on Sunday I slip away and let my wife entertain them.

"We figure, when this school year is over, I'll take the summer off and earn all I can so I'll be ahead when college classes start in the fall. It's hard work to get through—but we're finding, by careful management, it can be done. Whoever conceived the GI Bill of Rights, did a great thing for several million boys by helping them help themselves. The fact that the money doesn't reach—a guy has to figure and manage—is a part of education, too, I guess. That's what my wife says, and she's the financier of the family.

"It strikes me the plan this time is better than to give veterans a homestead—even if there were frontier land available today. Greater earning power and the means to a higher living standard are things a man can't lose. . . . he invests in himself. And the ones who can't take it, drop out automatically . . . I guess colleges won't be so crowded another year."

Never in its history has the United States had so many young men enter college, or show so great an enthusiasm for higher education.

May their moral and spiritual welfare not be neglected. With all mechanical and technical skills, they will need the balance that only the love of God can give . . . and without that balance education is merely failure.

As Others See It

Some Require Help.

It takes father's money to ruin some boys, while others are able to get out on their own and ruin themselves without the aid of money.—Kansas City Times.

Poem for Today

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

So Far, So Near.

So near you are tonight, so near
Who are so far away.
Here in your room with objects you
Held dear, things close and gay,

I stand and all these cherished things
Bring you to me close up.
I touch the chair you loved the best,
A huge old loving cup

You won at golf. Your treasures all
About me bring you near.
And so I feel you close to me
My love, my very dear.

Words of the Wise

The innocence that feels no risk and is taught no caution, is more vulnerable than guilt, and oftener assailed.—N. P. Willis.

Nu Phi Mu Installation, Dance Held at Mansfield-Leland Saturday

The climax of the Nu Phi Mu sorority rushing season was a formal installation and dance at the Mansfield-Leland hotel Saturday night.

Mrs. Robert D. Crowe, chapter registrar, installed the following members in the respective units: Unit I, Misses Madalyn Newton, Betty Fair; Unit II, Misses Norma Jean Anderson, Dorothy McCleary, Emily Campbell, Maryellen Lantz; Unit III, Miss Elaine Siegfried; Unit IV, Misses Betty Hugel, Marian Stevens, Margaret Burns, Catherine Donley, Betty Ann Gregory, Jeannie Boylan, Joyce Swaney, Eloise Becker, Marilyn Treisch, Louise Kmetz, Waunetah Jarman, Eileen McBride, Annabelle Crittenden, Mary Parry, Norma Solomon, Eileen Schneider, Barbara Jordon.

The advisors for the four units, Mrs. Norma Fenneman, Misses Kay Niman, Margaret Bush and Mary Brooker assisted Mrs. Crowe in the installation.

Twenty-six members received their pins and the following officers were installed: Unit I, vice president, Miss Gloria Tucker; recording secretary, Miss Betty Wilz; corresponding secretary, Miss Betty Hager; treasurer, Miss Marion Davis. Unit II, president, Miss Esther Hendrickson; vice president, Miss Betty DeLaney; recording secretary, Miss Beverly Shipley; corresponding secretary, Miss Peggy Hoff; treasurer, Miss Sally Kirkpatrick. Unit IV, Miss Waunetah Jarman, president; recording secretary, Miss Louise Kmetz; corresponding secretary, Miss Eileen McBride; treasurer, Miss Betty Ann Gregory.

Approximately seventy-five couples danced to the music of Bill Leicy following the installation. During intermission Beverly Shipley was crowned queen and was presented a jeweled pin, for getting the most pledges. Misses Sally Kirkpatrick, Peggy Hoff, Esther Hendrickson and Hazel Parker were her attendants who obtained the next number of pledges, and were presented rosebud pin guards.

The first meeting of the newly organized Unit IV will be held Wednesday night at 7:30 in the club room of the Southern hotel.

Luncheon Served To DAR Members

A dessert luncheon was served yesterday afternoon at the Women's Club to members of the Mary Washington chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution with the hostess committee consisting of Mrs. C. V. Shepard, Mrs. L. J. Bonar, Mrs H. H. Sanford, and Mrs. C. F. Akerman.

The meeting was conducted by 1st vice regent, Mrs D. N. Feiser. A letter was read from the DAR museum to Mrs. Fred T. Bristor thanking her for the receipt of two 100 year old quilts.

The organization, for a Christmas project, will send wrapped gifts to the children at Crossnor school. Gifts should be brought to the Nov. 11 meeting. Members will then hear Rev. Matthew Madden speak on "Internal Defense-Home and Church."

Miss Lois MacKellar, public librarian was the speaker of the day. She traced the development of the city library from a small reading room to the large system serving the county today.

Household Topic Heard at Club Meeting Monday

"The Twist of the Wrist," or shortcuts to good housekeeping was the topic heard by the Child Guidance club last evening. Betty Newton, representing the gas company, spoke at the home of Mrs. Louis Kaufman, South Linden road. Her speech revolved around the new frozen and dehydrated foods on the market telling of an entire frozen meal that can be prepared in the oven in seven minutes, and of frozen coffee, prepared egg and the new pressure cookers, their care and use.

John Brandt, jr., a student of Senior high school, spoke on Fire Prevention week, giving safety hints to the housewives.

Mrs. Paul Ackerman, Harter avenue, will be hostess Oct. 28 when the club will have a rummage sale.

"SALADA" TEA

Makes Friends Easily

Every day, Isaly's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk is making new friends, because every day, more and more Mansfield youngsters, and grown-ups, too, are discovering how delicious and appetizing Isaly's Homogenized Milk really is.

The richer, creamier taste of Isaly's is bound to make it a favorite, even with those who previously didn't drink regular milk. The entire quart is cream-flavored, the result of Homogenization — a scientific process which distributes the cream particles evenly through the milk . . . a process which makes the last glassful just as welcome and nourishing as the first. But its richer, better taste isn't the only way Isaly's Homogenized Milk makes friends . . .

Because it consists of smaller butterfat particles, Homogenized Milk can be digested quicker and easier, especially by infants and invalids. And its uniform smoothness actually improves cooking and baking; it won't form a "skin" at the surface when heated.

If you haven't tried this new taste-pleasing milk, get a quart or two tomorrow and see how quickly it makes friends in your family. Isaly's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk is available at your grocery, all Isaly stores and from the Isaly route man who delivers in your neighborhood. Telephone us if you'd like regular delivery service to your door. The number is 4217-6.

For your added health protection, every quart of Isaly's Milk has double sanitary seling. First, a tight but easily removed cap in the top of the bottle which may be used as a cover when the bottle is not in use, and second, a fresh, cellophane hood which fits snugly down over the top of the bottle and keeps the pouring rim healthfully clean. Look for the crisp, golden cellophane hod on Isaly's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk.

Shelby Couple Are Married On Parent's Anniversary

SHELBY Open church was observed for the wedding uniting Miss Mirth Monn in marriage to Charles McKellogg at 7:30 p. m. Friday before the altar of United Brethren church here.

Rev V I Sullivan, pastor of the church read the service which fell on the wedding anniversary date of both Mr. and Mrs. M. B Monn, parents of the bride, and Mr and Mrs C. P. Monn, brother and sister-in-law of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal white taffeta gown made with a sheer yoke trimmed with net ruching and long tight sleeves. The full skirt extended in a long train. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a beaded tiara and she carried a bouquet of white roses and mums

Attendants included Miss Golda Fogle, Mrs. Jacque Armstrong and Mrs. Estill Smotherman of Shelby. Serving as best man was Robert McKellogg, brother of the bridegroom. Chester Monn and Corliss Monn, brothers of the bride, were ushers.

Nuptial music was played on the organ by Mrs. George Small of Sidney. Soloist was Mrs. William Friend of Mansfield.

A reception was held at the church parlors following the ceremony. The couple will make their home at 109 East Main street.

The former Miss Monn graduated from Shelby high school and the Mansfield Business college. She had been employed at the Shelby Salesbook company office. The bridegroom, a graduate of Lorain high school and Ohio university, is employed as a chemist at the Ohio Seamless Tube company.

Mansfield Man Wed In Shelby

In a single ring ceremony, Mrs. Lillian C. Chandler of Park avenue west, Mansfield, exchanged marriage vows with James Phillips of Shelby, Friday before the altar at First Lutheran church, with Rev. D. Bruce Young officiating.

Following a wedding trip through the east, the couple will make their home at 11 Vernon road in Shelby.

HOMEMAKING COMMITTEE.

Mrs. George Knackstedt entertained members of the Homemaking committee of the Women of the Moose for a Halloween party last night at the Moose home. Assisting her were Mrs. Kirk Ricks and Mrs. Alex Hamilton. Mrs. Samuel Gentille conducted a brief business meeting. Costume prizes were awarded Mrs. Peter Harold, and Mrs. Ray Frye while Mrs. Frye and Mrs. George Merschdorf won game prizes. Nov. 11, Mrs. Lloyd Hughes, Mrs. Cloyd Wyckoff and Mrs. Ernest Winters, will be hostesses at 7:30 p. m. at the Moose home.

Lutheran Society Hears Missionary Back From India

Miss Jessie Thomas, a missionary recently returned from India, spoke on the Four P's" when she addressed more than 70 members and guests of the Mary Voegele Missionary society of St. Matthew's Lutheran church last night at the church.

The Four Ps included progress, problems, privilege and purpose, and she described the life and customs of India.

Miss Thomas was introduced by Mrs. Franklin Spence, program chairman.

Mrs. Bruce Rogers presented a vocal solo.

Hostess committee for the evening included Mrs. William Kramer, Mrs. Raymond Beal, Mrs. Burlyn Schuck and Mrs. Floyd Bollinger.

Nov. 11 Mrs. Roger Roserwill entertains the group at her home on Hoffman avenue.

LOOK OUT FOR PIN-WORMS

Recent medical reports reveal that an amazing number of children (and grown-ups too) may be victims of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting what is wrong! And these pests, living inside the human body, can cause real distress.

So watch out for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms—especially the aggravating rectal itch. Get JAYNE'S P-W and follow the directions.

P-W is the Pin-Worm treatment developed in the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, after years of patient research. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms.

Ask your druggist: P-W for Pin-Worms!

MANSFIELD SECOND IN INS POLL

CADETS LEAD PARADE

By BOB GRUBB

NEW YORK—(AP)—After only a week's absence, Army has returned to the head of the nation's football parade, and Texas has slipped into third place behind Notre Dame.

The country's sports writers, balloting in the Associated Press' weekly poll, were quick to restore Red Blaik's black knights, on the basis of their 20-13 victory over Michigan, to the No. 1 ranking they held for two years.

Sixty-three of 139 writers put the Cadets back at the head of the class.

Based on a point-scoring system of 10 points for a first-place ballot, nine for a second, eight for a third, and so on, Army collected 1,267½ points.

The Longhorns squeaked through over Oklahoma by the same score that Army did in beating Michigan. Army previously had defeated Oklahoma 21-7, and because of that game the Texas team had declared it aimed to make Army look bad by comparison.

The Longhorns were given 38 votes for the top spot, and while they drew more than Notre Dame's 31 for first place, the Irish rolled up a huge second-place score—51½ to 31 for Texas. Apparently Notre Dame's 49-6 trouncing of Purdue made a better impression on the voters than did Texas' decision over the Sooners.

In spite of their setback by army, Michigan's Wolverines fell only one notch in the ratings, from fourth last week to fifth. Displacing Michigan at No. 4 position was University of California at Los Angeles, 26-6 victor over Stanford. The Bruins' third straight win got them five first-place ballots and all of the writers contributed to a 763-point total for the Uclans.

Penn's Quakers, who have yet to encounter any bothersome competition, received a pair of first-place votes and amassed 502 points that gave them sixth place, just 40 short of Michigan's 542.

Alabama dropped to seventh place with 470 and two other southern teams, Georgia and Tennessee, broke their eight-place tie of last week, Georgia remaining in that spot with 356 while the Vols wound up No. 9. With 336 Northwestern stayed in tenth place at 203½ as a result of its one-touchdown victory over Minnesota.

Vet Cubs Play Chicago Bombers in Columbus

GALION — The undefeated Galion Vet Cubs go to Columbus next Sunday to meet the Chicago Brown Bombers in Red Bird stadium.

Bernie Jefferson, former Northwestern star, leads the Chicago attack. The Vet Cubs were pushed to win a 12-0 decision over the Dayton Rockets here Sunday afternoon. Bob [illegible] and Luse tallied the Galion TD's.

Inherit Waite's Position

By JOHN BARRINGTON

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Ohio sportswriters, sticking closely to last week's script, made only two major alterations today in listing the state's ten best high school football teams for International News Service's fourth weekly poll.

One of the changes was a chain reaction, brought about by Toledo Waite's atomic bombing at the hands of its cross-town foe, Libbey.

Libbey's 8-6 upset victory of last Friday dropped Waite from second to fifth in the standings. Simultaneously, Mansfield, Canton McKinley and Dayton Chaminade all advanced one notch to second, third and fourth, respectively.

1. Cleveland Cathedral Latin
2. Mansfield
3. Canton McKinley
4. Dayton Chaminade
5. Toledo Waite
6. Massillon
7. Campbell
8. Lima Central
9. Steubenville Central Catholic
10. Middletown

The second chance occurred down in tenth position, where unbeaten Middletown entered the lists in place of Portsmouth.

It was a foregone conclusion that Cleveland Cathedral Latin should lead the poll for the fourth straight week. In fact, Latin's position was strengthened as Waite, its chief rival heretofore, fell into disgrace. Latin chalked up its 30th game without defeat, a 32-0 waltz over Cleveland East.

Mansfield became a strong runner-up selection through its 33-0 victory over Springfield.

The stage was thereby set for the No. 1 game of this week—Mansfield against Massillon, still rated sixth after its 19-0 beating of Alliance. Mansfield has won five straight this year; Massillon has taken three in a row since losing its opener to Latin.

McKinley's election to third place was predicated upon a handy 34-0 slaughter of Canton Lincoln. Chaminade defeated Dayton Fairview, 27-0, Saturday night to gain advancement to fourth.

Seventh, eighth and ninth positions were steady, as they say in Wall Street. It was Campbell, 13-6 winner from game and stubborn Steubenville Wells; Lima Central, 33-13 victor over Findlay, and Steubenville Central, which edged Youngstown Ursuline, 13-12, in that order.

Middletown won from Dayton Stivers, 28 to 7, to get one foot in the throne room. Portsmouth tobogganed out of the hierarchy when it lost to Huntington, W. Va., East, 25-13.

The Middies barely edged out a half dozen other worthy contenders for recognition. Among them were Toledo Libbey, Youngstown Wilson, Barberton and Zanesville.

GRIDIRON LEGERDEMAIN—Mansfield Tyger backfielders practice a little of the T formation magic which they will throw at Massillon Friday night at Stadium field. The Tyger T attack has been effective in Mansfield's five 1946 victories. Ollie Cline (back to camera) has faked the pigskin to Nick Gagich, junior blocking back, and is ready to lay it in the arms of Ralph Majors, hard-running halfback. Kenny Horvath, leading Tyger ground-gainer, is shown in the background faking the secondary.—News-Journal Photo.

Fiery Ben Chapman Sets Goal Of 80 Wins for 1947 Phillies

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)—Ben Chapman has set a goal of 80 victories for his Philadelphia Phillies in the National league scramble next season.

"I set a goal of 65 wins this year," says Bearcat Ben, "and we ended up by winning 69. Next year, we're aiming for 80."

Chapman, once the fiery outfielder of the New York Yankees back in the days of "murderers' row," is as happy as a youngster with a new toy.

"To become a first-division club," Chappie says, 'we've got to go out and get—through buying or trading—a shortstop, two outfielders, a catcher and three pitchers. However, I've said before that the Phillies will accept no canaries for turkeys in any trades, and that still goes.

"We have few men that other clubs want in trades, and it may be three years before our elaborate farm system catches up with us and begins to deliver some good players who are ready for the majors. Therefore, it looks like we will have to buy inexperienced men."

Chapman, who guided the Phillies to fifth place in the torrid National league race this year, declared he wouldn't leave his job as manager of the Phillies "for any job in baseball—not even for the New York Yankees."

"I have a good contract which runs through the 1948 season," Chapman reveals. "Owner Bob Carpenter is a regular fellow, and they don't come better than Herb Pennock.

"I am very fond of Carpenter. Why, we get along like brothers. Just before the National league season closed, Bob and I engaged in a foot race in front of his palatial home in Philadelphia. Both of us were in our street clothes, and we wanted to settle once and for all who was the fastest man. I won't say who won the race."

Chapman said he'd been given a free hand by Carpenter and Pennock to make any trades, sales or buys that he thinks will strengthen the club.

"The ground work for some of the deals we will make this winter already has been laid," he says, "and we may come through with something at the national baseball meeting in Los Angeles in December."

Chapman's first job as a baseball skipper was in 1942 as manager of the Richmond Colts of the Class B Piedmont league. He also managed the 1944 Richmond team before being sold to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Ben made a prediction before the start of last season that the Phillies would not finish in their usual spot in the National league cellar and that they wouldn't lose 100 games. He was right — both ways.

Grade Schools Resume Play

Mansfield grade schools swing into their second week on the gridiron tomorrow with two league games scheduled.

Bushnell meets Bowman at John Simpson field at 4 p. m., while West Fifth and Western battle for their first victory on the North Lake field at 4 p. m.

Miller led Woodland to a 12 to 0 victory over Hedges yesterday afternoon in a postponed game at Appleseed. He scored the first touchdown on an end sweep and the second came on an intercepted pass which he returned 40 yards.

Under Three Coaches

John Mastrangelo, Vandergrift, Pa., and Fred Rovia, Hammond, Ind., who are fighting for the starting berth at right guard on the Notre Dame varsity, have played their football under three coaches in three years. Their bosses have been Ed McKeever, Hughie Devore and Frank Leahy.

Injuries Slow Up Bulldogs

John Simpson junior high school will be minus two of its star players, Tommy Tucker, pigskin speedster, and Willie Fowler, pass snatching end, tomorrow afternoon when the Bulldogs meet Ashland on the Stadium field at 4 o'clock.

Coach Bob Kennedy said Tucker received a broken thumb in practice last night and Fowler broke his arm in last week's contest against Mt. Vernon.

Madison Plays At Doylestown

Mansfield Madison meets a high scoring Doylestown eleven Friday afternoon at Doylestown in a Northeastern Buckeye league game at 3 o'clock. The Rams have won two and lost one in league competition.

Doylestown defeated Millersburg in its only league contest and had bowled over Dalton twice, 41 to 0, and 26 to 0.

Coach Jeff DeHaven's pigskin performers will be forced to play the tight defense they showed against Loudonville to stop Bob Williams. Glen Shaffer and Junie Frase. Frase scored two touchdowns against Dalton last Friday night.

Frase intercepted an aerial and raced 80 yards for the first marker and returned a punt 40 yards for the second score. Shaffer is a stellar passer and Harry Weckesser, an end, has proven a worthy wingman to date.

Martin Hall might be shelved for Friday's contest due to an injury of his nose. Chuck Campbell, who twisted his knee last Friday will be ready to start this contest.

Madison's reserves travel to Mt. Vernon Thursday afternoon to play its weekly grid game.

Red Sox, Cards Decide Series Title Today

By JACK HAND

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The world championship and $127,739 in cold cash awaits the winner today as Dave (Boo) Ferriss, the amazing Boston Red Sox sophomore, opposes pint-sized Murry Dickson of the St. Louis Cardinals in the finale of the 43rd world series.

National league prestige, rocked to its foundations by the all-star rout, has made a remarkable recovery in the Red Birds' split of the first six games but the power-laden Boston team remains the oddsmakers' favorite at a 13 to 20 price.

Another capacity crowd of 35,000 is expected to pack Sportsman's park.

Ferriss' 4-0 shutout victory in the third game and his 25-6 regular season win record give the Sox an edge over Dickson, a renovated bullpen artist who piled up most of his 15 decisions since his first starting chance June 7.

On top of Ferriss' past performance chart that includes a series win over Dickson, there is a solid suspicion that the Sox, who never have lost a series, are due to break out at least once with a splurge of extra base blows.

Not even the stoutest members of the "Knock Ted Williams Society" would have figured he'd be going into a seventh game with only five hits, all singles. Williams has been stymied by variations of the "Dyer shift" and heady pitching by the Cards who have given him very little to hit at. Most of his teammates join "The Kid" in thinking he is due to tee off on righthanded Dickson.

In the first six games, the box score figures show the Cards have completely outplayed the vaunted Sox who breezed to their pennant. St. Louis enjoys an edge in club batting, .254 to 2.42, club fielding .987 to 957, only three errors to 10 and in both total hits and runs.

Seven Card pitchers have given fewer earned runs and pitched more complete games than the 10 Sox hurlers used by Manager Joe Cronin.

Only in the game Ferriss worked did the Red Sox show a marked superiority.

Mansfield Sophs Drop First Game

ASHLAND — Mansfield sophomores lost their first 1946 grid contest here yesterday afternoon when the Ashland reserves defeated Mansfield 13 to 6, in a hard fought game.

The Tygers scored first in the opening quarter after Joe Miller heaved a 20 yard aerial to Bernard Weaver. Ashland's two scores both came on blocked punts inside of Mansfield's 20 yard stripe.

In the second quarter, Ashland blocked a kick on the 20 and after several plays M Glasser crashed off tackle from the two. In the third quarter, Johnson, tackle, blocked another punt on the 15, grabbed the ball and raced over for the winning touchdown. T. Glasser converted the extra point.

Forest Evashevski, Syracuse backfield coach, is the lad who called the signals and paved the way for Tom Harmon at Michigan.

MRS QUACK SPEAKS HER MIND

"Do you really think that there are fewer Ducks than there were last year at the time of the fall journey to the Sunny South" asked Mrs. Black Duck of Mrs. Quack the Mallard Duck. She, with Mr. Quack and three children, had arrived on the Big River the night before.

"I don't just think; I know. You nested here instead of going north to the great nesting grounds of most of our people. You haven't had a chance to see what I have seen. This year there were not as many there to raise families as there were last year, and not nearly as many as the year before. Then I had some hope that we Ducks might in time become the great people that we once were. But instead of gaining in numbers we have lost. We've lost a lot. And we'll keep on losing until there are no Ducks unless something is done for us that we can't do for ourselves," declared Mrs. Quack.

Mr. Quack nodded his handsome green head. "We've brought three children with us when we should have had at least twice that number or even three times as many," said he.

"It is just the same with most of the families who are making the long journey south that we must make whether we want to or not. And you know what only three children going South means," said Mrs. Quack. She spoke sorrowfully.

"Perhaps I do and perhaps I don't. Just what do you think it means?" replied Mrs. Black Duck.

"It means that we will be lucky if we have more than one of the dears to come back with us in the spring, if we ourselves are alive to come back," said Mrs. Quack. She spoke bitterly.

"What do you think the reason is our people are becoming fewer and fewer? There must be a reason," said Mrs. Black Duck.

"Of course there's a reason," said Mrs. Quack quickly. "Too many hunters. That's the reason."

"I know," quacked Mrs. Black Duck. "Too many Foxes. Too many Hawks. Too many Owls."

"I didn't say so," said Mrs. Quack sharply.

"Too many Minks? Too many Weasels?" asked Mrs. Black Duck.

Mrs. Quack shook her head. "There are always too many of all of them. One of any of them around a nest is too many. But those are not the hunters I mean," she said.

"She means the two-legged hunters with the dreadful fire-sticks," spoke up Mr. Quack. "She is right, exactly right." He shook his green head in disapproval.

"I have heard that crows are being blamed," ventured Mrs. Black Duck.

"They are to blame some. There are more Crows than there used to be, too many. And they do love eggs, especially duck eggs. A Crow got the three eggs I told you we lost. But sharp as their eyes are, they can be fooled if one is smart. There is nothing unfair about them in their hunting or in the hunting of us by those other hunters in fur and feathers. They don't kill us from a distance as do those two-legged hunters with fire-sticks. They hunt fairly with teeth and claws. If those two-legged hunters didn't have fire-sticks that somehow hurt and kill from a distance it would be very different," declared Mrs. Quack.

"And a two-legged hunter isn't satisfied with killing one out of a flock, as any one of those other hunters is. No, sir, he isn't satisfied. He will get as many of the flock as he can. And he will keep it up all day long if he has a chance," added Mr. Quack bitterly.

"I know," said Mrs. Black Duck. "I've seen things like that happen right here on the Big River."

"Last year there were more two-legged hunters than the year before. That is one reason, the chief reason, that there are fewer Ducks this year," said Mrs. Quack.

"And this year there are more hunters than last year, so next year there will be still fewer of us Ducks," said Mr. Quack. He spoke bitterly.

Peter Rabbit, who had heard it all, didn't blame him for feeling bitter. "I would feel the same way in his place," thought Peter.

STOCKS RALLY AS PRICE LID ON MEAT ENDS

Upturn Follows in Wake of Truman's Announcement on Decontrol.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market negotiated a fast rally today in the wake of the president's meat decontrol ruling and indications that other price restrictions soon would be eliminated.

Virtually all departments participated in the upswing and gains of 1 to more than 4 points were widespread near midday.

Prominent on the bulge were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, U. S Rubber, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, American Telephone, Electric Power and Light, Kennecott, Anaconda, Westinghouse, Eastman Kodak, Santa Fe, Southern Railway and Great Northern.

Huron County to Vote on Park Issue

NORWALK—The Huron County Memorial Park and Lake committee has backed a proposal for a memorial park in Huron county dedicated to the memory of those who lost their lives in the armed services.

The voters of Huron county will vote Nov. 5 on a proposed $100,000 bond issue to finance the park project. The bond issue would be paid for by a one-fourth mill tax levy.

The memorial park, which also would include a lake, would be located in a central portion of the county. A memorial forest within the park limits would be dedicated to the memory of those killed in World Wars 1 and 2. Each tree within the forest would be dedicated to individuals.

Murray Claims Goods Hoarded

NEW YORK —(UP)— Philip Murray, president of the CIO, charged today that industry has on hand $37,000,000,000 (B) worth of durable and light products which an investigation might show it is hoarding for higher prcies.

The accumulation of such stocks "may well form a greater threat to our national economy and security than any labor dispute that could be possible," Murray said at one of a series of "political workshop schools" sponsored by the women's division of the national citizens political action committee.

HERBERT PAYS FINE

LONDON —(AP)— Paul M. Herbert, Republican nominee for lieutenant governor of Ohio, paid a $26.10 speeding fine last night in the court of Mayor E. P. Steasmaker. Herbert himself was not there but was represented by a local attorney, James F. Bell.

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK—Matt Woll, of the Photo-Engravers' Union, a vice-president of the AFL, comes up with a proposal in his official publication, the Photoengraver, in which that mythical snake that we all have heard so much about actually does bite himself by the tail and try to eat himself up.

Mr. Woll, a Catholic and an enemy of all Communists and all who knowingly have truck with them, thinks it is about time to start picketing the movie houses across the country, through the agency of a League for Political Decency, to drive out of the movies all Communists actors, writers and producers and all others who, maybe, aren't bolsheviks themselves, but contribute to their leagues, committees, guilds, councils, foundations, federations, groups, congresses and so forth, for or against this or that.

This is an old and, as respectability goes in unionism, highly respected craft union proposing that.

Mr. Woll thinks the reason why so many of them came down with acute social consciousness, meaning both the hacks and the hams, is that they are oppressed by a sense of guilt because of their swollen incomes and are stung by the taunts of "superior but non-Hollywood intellectuals." But what I say is that, while most of them do realize secretly that they are trash, they are not wired for any such feelings as shame or inferiority and are trying to establist an aristocracy of trash, as the Astors, Vanderbilts and Goulds did in their own time. They really believe it is fine to be trash.

* * *

MY THEORY is that from the year 1933 until recently they were flattered to observe that their own morality, if you could use such a word in that connection had become the unofficial but influential standard of the country or, anyway, the administration, and that they like communism only for its recognition of licentiousness.

Personally, I think the best way would be to refrain from calling anyone a Communist or a Stalinist and just announce that, for reasons sufficient to myself, I wouldn't patronize any theater which showed a picture with which Ruth McKenney or her husband, who calls himself Bruce Minton, had anything to do.

* * *

THESE TWO recently were thrown out of the Communist party. And I would draw a bead on Paramount, too, inasmuch as they announced that they were employed as writers by Paramount, until Paramount publicly announced that the Mintons, or whatever they call themselves, were no longer employed, and to hell with any fine-spun explanations from Paramount. It is my right to make such decisions and announce them publicly, even by picketing (see opinion by old Professor Weeme of the supreme court, in the cafeteria case) and, naturally, I would be pleased if a few million others shared my aversion and determination. I don't want to censor anyone's art of expression. I just won't pay any money to any company that pays any money to these Mintons. And then I would add other names from time to time.

But how can Mr. Woll oganize a national boycott or picket line under a union's authority when the purpose is stated to be purely political and moral without projecting the unions into a field of censorship? One union boycotts the work of half a dozen others and counter-boycotts and cross-boycotts follow in retaliation. The first thing they know they have swallowed their tail right up to their own ears and what happened then I won't try to tell you because the story about the snake seems to be just a myth, although it would have to be a pretty serious dilemma, don't you think?

No, X-out dilemma. What am I thinking about, dilemmas have got horns and snakes ain't. Anyway, a quandary. Do do quandaries have horns too? I mean African quandaries

Lippmann — Today and Tomorrow

SECRETARY OF STATE Byrnes and his associates, Senators Vandenberg and Connally have not failed because they lacked power. Impasse security, and atomism, but because they have been trying to do the impossible.

They have been trying by force of argument to induce the Soviet Union to yield power and influence in the territory which the Red Army has occupied. That has been their first objective in the campaign to settle the global war.

They have not achieved this objective, and it was self-evident from the outset that they could not achieve it.

The only way that the Russian power in eastern Europe can be reduced as part of a general world settlement is by a general settlement in the world at large. The Western powers control what happens in the future with the area which Russia controls. It is there that we have the power to act, the power to induce, the power to compel.

In restricting the "peace conference" to the area which Russia controls entirely and to two or three points like Trieste, where Russian power touches immediately, we were renouncing the very idea of a global or "one world" settlement. The basis of a negotiation was not there.

Byrnes had nothing to bargain with: he could not force the Russians to yield, since he lacked military power in that area, and he could not persuade them to yield, since he had nothing to offer them elsewhere except the good opinion of their allies.

* * *

BYRNES HAS been trying to settle a world war, having excluded from the negotiations Japan and Eastern Asia, the frontier of Germany and its form of government, the Japanese colonial empire in the Pacific, the Italian colonial empire in Africa.

Have we any right to be astonished that the peacemakers have not even begun to talk about a world settlement among the victors and with the vanquished? How could we have made any progress toward one world at even one Europe, when we have dedicated a year to talking solely about one special part of it?

Moreover, of the vast areas which were excluded from the peacemaking at the outset western power is sufficient to use our power and influence. If we could not work, or not work easily, with the Russians what was there to prevent us from organizing them to fit into the structure of the world as we believe it should be?

If Germany was not to be discussed at the peace conference, then of course we could have to shoot it out with the Russians, but we could have agreement with the British and the French, the Belgians and the Dutch about the western borderlands of Germany, and about the constitutional structure of Germany in the western zones.

It could be said of the strategical plan of our peacemaking is that it did not accomplish anything in eastern Europe, it might not be so bad. But there is worse ahead if Byrnes proceeds on the course he has been taking.

SHEETS RITES

Funeral services for William P. Sheets, former Mansfield resident, who died in San Gabriel, Calif., Sunday noon, will be held Wednesday noon at the Little Church of the Flowers, with burial in Forest Lawn cemetery, Glendale, Calif.

526 PLACED IN JOBS BY USES DURING MONTH

Mansfield Office Ranks 12th in Ohio in Placements For September.

The Mansfield office of the U. S. Employment Service placed 526 workers in jobs during September to put the office here in 12th position among all offices in the state as a job-finding agency for the month.

Offices which ranked ahead of Mansfield in the order of rating were: Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo, Youngstown, Akron, Bowling Green, Lorain, Hamilton, Fremont, and Dayton.

Two of those offices ranking ahead of the Mansfield office last month, Fremont and Bowling Green, were probably due to seasonal labor used in harvesting of crops, C. W. Handley, manager of the USES here said.

The office made 2,227 reception contacts during September, including 593 new applications for work in the Mansfield and Shelby area. In the number of new applications for work the office ranked eighth in the state, for September, Handley said.

On the other side of the ledger, the office received 40 new claims for unemployment compensation, while claimes filed by self-employed persons last month totaled 30.

In claims the Mansfield office was far down the list in comparison with other offices in the state, ranking 34th in new claims and 54th in self-employed claims, Handley explained.

OFFICE TAKES VET INQUIRIES

Columbus Branch to Handle Insurance Data, Payments.

Mansfield area World War II veterans may now mail premium payments and address inquiries about their National Service Life insurance to a branch collections office in Columbus, officials of the Mansfield sub-regional office of the Veterans' administration said today.

Under the new branch office set-up, whereby more than 1,700,000 insurance accounts have been transferred to the Columbus office, Ohio World War II veterans holding National Service Life Insurance policies should mail check or money orders to the following address: Collections Division, Veterans' Administration, Branch No. 652, South Starling street, Columbus 8, O.

World War I veterans holding government life insurance policies should send premium payments to The Veterans' Administration, Collections Division, Washington 25, D. C., while all military personnel on active status, including veterans who have reenlisted, may have insurance premiums deducted through Army Finance channels, or mail premiums to Veterans' Administration, Collections Division, 346 Broadway, New York 13, New York.

Due to the volume of work entailed in the transfer of accounts to the Columbus office, individual inquiries cannot be answered prior to Nov. 1, the bureau said. When paying premiums, or submitting inquiries after Nov. 1, its of the utmost importance that veterans include complete information, it was pointed out. Specifically required are full name, present mailing address, "X" or "V" insurance certificate numbers, service serial numbers, date of birth, and date of discharge from the service.

The Mansfield sub-regional office is not a collection unit and payments should not be brought or sent to this office, it was emphasized.

STILL MISSING

County Home Resident Takes Walk, Doesn't Return.

County home officials and sheriff's officers today were continuing a search for Miss Maude Watson, 67, a resident of the home for the last 10 years, who failed to return from a walk on the county home grounds Sunday afternoon.

Grover Dickson, superintendent of the home, said "not a trace" of Miss Walker had been uncovered. He said she had no known relatives living in this area, and came originally from Michigan.

When last seen she was wearing a brown sweater, faded skirt and was without a hat, Dickson said. He described her as weighing about 145 pounds, and five feet eight inches tall.

Pulling Contest To Be Held Sunday

CRESTLINE—A horse-pulling contest will be held just off State Route 61 south of Crestline next Sunday, E. J. Greter, treasurer of the Crestline Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

The project is sponsored by the Crestline Jaycees, which reported numerous entries from Ohio and neighboring states. The heavy class will consist of Persian and Belgian horses, and a second event will feature common or farm horses.

YMCA Prepares to Reveal Future Expansion Planning

Directors of the Mansfield YMCA announced today that they have authorized the executive committee to present to the Citizens council a statement of the Y's future planning program.

The YMCA is one of five local social agencies requested to submit expansion plans to the Citizens council for action in drives expected to total $800,000 for building improvements. The other agencies are Girl Scouts, Friendly House, YWCA and the Salvation Army.

Drafting of the planning program had been recommended earlier by Ralph Chapman, general secretary.

Chapman had also recommended that the board obtain a younger man for the post of general secretary. The directors announced today that they were studying qualifications of several men for this post. They announced that Chapman will continue with the Mansfield Y indefinitely doing important staff work.

Chapman said: "I hope that arrangements can soon be made to decide upon and bring to Mansfield a younger, experienced secretary. I believe that the new executive, who will bring to this assignment a broad experience and fresh viewpoint, will be most helpful in realizing the larger program which is essential if the local YMCA is to keep pace with the city's growth and progress."

TAX PAYMENTS UP TO $62,341

Treasurer Has Collected One-Third of Amount Due.

Collection of personal taxes for the last half of 1946, which opened Oct. 5, totalled $62,341 today, the office of County Treasurer C. C. Payne reported.

Deadline for payment is Nov. 5, after which a 10 per cent penalty will be levied.

The general tax fund totalled $53,946 of the total collected, while $8,395 was credited to classified taxes, the county treasurer's office said.

Total charge for the last half of 1946 is $180,248, of which $160,867 is general taxes. Approximately 1,000 taxpayers in 1,248 accounts still owe taxes.

Collections for the first half of this year, made last February and March, were $164,881, of which $76,130 was general tax.

Denies Theft Of Clothing

Charged with the theft of clothing valued at $10 from Irene Welsh, 126 Sixth avenue, Mary Montis, 26, of 136 Sixth avenue, pleaded innocent today in municipal court.

Bond was set at $500 and the case was continued for hearing until tomorrow. She is accused of stealing a skirt, a jumper, three dresses, some stockings and a pair of shoes.

George A. Timko, of Cleveland, forfeited a $25 bond by failing to appear today for hearing on a speeding charge.

The third and final distribution will be made in December, the auditor said.

LAST DAY

Dr. Wild Leaves City-County Health Post Tomorrow.

Completing his last day today as city-county health commissioner, Dr. W. B. Wild will leave for a short vacation Thursday or Friday before reporting for duty at a new position in Michigan.

He leaves Mansfield for a county health directorship near Battle Creek, Mich., following five years here as health commissioner and one as assistant commissioner.

Dr. Wild will be replaced, temporarily, by Dr. H. G. Knierim, city-county venereal disease clinic physician, until the boards of health name a permanent successor.

F. G. Mitchell Dies In Iowa

Frank G. Mitchell, 77, of 215 Euclid avenue, a retired mail carrier, died suddenly yesterday at the home of his son, Philip R. Mitchell, in Des Moines, Iowa.

Mr. Mitchell was born in Lexington on Nov. 21, 1869, and had lived here for more than 50 years. He retired in 1933. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and the Masonic lodge.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nellie Mitchell, and a son, Philip, of Des Moines.

The body will arrive at the Wappner funeral home Tuesday evening. Funeral services will be held there at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday, with Rev. David N. Roller and the Mansfield Commandery, Knights Templar, officiating. Burial will be in Lexington cemetery.

Up and Down The Street

PA-PAW TIME—

Ever eat a pa-paw as a youngster? Most boys who grew up in the country can remember sampling the banana-like fruit in the fall. As L. Disbennett, 212 Penn avenue, came to The News-Journal office yesterday with a basketful of pa-paws he harvested in the Woodlot near Nevada, west of Bucyrus. Related to the tropical pa-paya, the pa-paw is a yellow-green fruit about three inches long. It grows in clusters on small trees with attractive glossy leaves. Disbennett has heard that it's possible to make a kind of butter from pa-paws and he wonders if any Mansfielders have the recipe for it.

PAT ON BACK—

Members of the Mansfield Army Recruiting staff had a letter today congratulating them on their fine showing during last month. It was from Lt. Col. W. R. Dayton, commanding officer of the Ohio Recruiting sub-district office in Cleveland. Dayton said the Mansfield staff did "a splendid job" in topping their quota for September. The Mansfield station enlisted 65 men in September, exceeding their quota by 15 men. They ranked second in rating among all offices in the state during last month.

BACK IN CIVVIES—

Although the fighting stopped more than a year ago it wasn't until a few days ago that members of the army could wear civilian clothes during off-duty hours. Staff Sgt. Thomas M. Farrell, jr., of the Mansfield Army Recruiting office reported today that a War department bulletin permits soldiers to get back into their civilian suits for the first time since Pearl Harbor.

Born in Randolph county, Ala., Mrs. Potter came to Mansfield two years ago. She is a member of the Church of God in Christ. Surviving, besides the daughter at whose home she died, is another daughter, Msr. Mittie Grier of Mansfield; and one son, Stell Walker, of Alabama; 12 grandchildren anl four great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at the Geiger funeral home Tuesday at 2 p. m., with Elder Maddox of the Church of God in Christ, officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home until time for services.

High Art Pupils Asked to Compete

Mansfield high school students may participate in the second annual art contest, planned by the Harry Doehla Art Competition of New York City for encouragement of young artists.

New York headquarters said 50,000 students are expected to take part. Contestants are asked to submit original designs in color suitable for use on greeting cards.

First national prize will be a four-year art school scholarship valued at $1,000 plus an allowance of $100 for artist's materials for each year of the four years. Second prize will be a two-year scholarship, plus $100 allowance; third, $175 in war bonds; fourth, $150 in U. S. war bonds, and fifth, $100 in bonds.

State-wide contest awards will be bonds. Winners in the city competition will receive scroll awards for the ten best entries.

Grape Festival Set for Saturday

The annual Grape Festival dance sponsored by the Sons and Daughters of Herman Lodges No. 13 and 14 will be held at 8 p. m. Saturday at the lodge hall.

Music will be furnished by Eddie Skulski's band. Admission tickets may be purchased from lodge officers or at the ticket window on the evening of the dance. Price of admission is 50 cents.

ENGINEER ASKS FOR HEARING ON ROUTE 13

Two Proposals Offered For Paved Highway North of Mansfield.

Richland county's hopes for a new first class highway around Mansfield's new municipal airport, to replace the abandoned State Route 13, were a step nearer realization today when County Engineer Walter E. Rusk announced the completion of preliminary surveys.

Rusk told the county commissioners:

Rusk notified the county commissioners that studies by his department have progressed to the point where a public hearing can be held on a proposed relocation of the old road (now known as county highway 13-A).

"We suggest that you fix the date for such a hearing and we will run the customary legal advertisement. An effort will be made to notify all interested parties, including the Ohio state department of highways."

Vacated In 1944.

The state route was vacated March 31, 1944, in order to make way for the $2,000,000 airport. Since then Richland county has built and maintained a crushed stone road around the western edge of the air field.

Rusk said Tax Map Draftsman Randall Barrett and Deputy Engineer Donald Borchardt have completed the surveys for proposed roads to either the western or eastern side of the airport.

The state highway department, which once started surveys and then voided them because of legalities, has termed a new road around the port a high priority project because of the great amount of traffic in and out of Mansfield from north of the port. It had promised to construct the highway if the county would make the preliminary surveys and purchase land for the right-of-way.

According to the county engineer's surveys, the proposed new road would be three and a half miles long.

2 Plans Offered.

Two routes are proposed: One to the west and one to the east of the airport. If the western route is approved it would begin two miles north of Mansfield, sweep westward in a long gentle curve around the port and end slightly more than one-half mile north of the Amoy-Pavonia road. Curving Y-shaped intersections would connect it with the Amoy-Pavonia, Crall and Nail roads.

On the eastern side, the road would begin at the same point on the southern end, curve around the airport, run parallel to the Erie railroad tracks (on the west side of the tracks), and end at the same northern terminus. It would parallel the Erie tracks for nearly a mile. Provisions have been made for a subway under the tracks and a new stretch of road about one and one-quarter miles long to connect the eastern route with State Route 545 which enters Mansfield over Newman street.

STUDY PLAN

Fair Board Meets Tonight on Use of Ground For Homes.

The Richland county fair board will meet in the probate court rooms today at 8 p. m. to consider the county commissioners' request to locate emergency housing units on the fairground.

Commissioners, who are holding $64,149 in state funds to aid in financing a veterans' housing project in the county, have conferred once with the fair board but no decision was made because of the lack of a quorum of fair board members.

Commissioner John W. Selby said that a portion of the fairground on the east side would make a suitable site for the units, being close to two accessible streets and utility lines.

Plans to Open Mansfield Office

Dr. Donald W. Dewald, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dewald, of West Main street, Crestline, will open an office for the practice of internal medicine at 200 Park avenue west, Mansfield, in the near future, it was announced here today.

Recently discharged from the medical corps with the rank of major, Dr. Dewald was graduated from Wooster college where he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, and he received his medical degree at Western Reserve university.

$1,000 Fire Ruins Lawyer's Library

MILLERSBURG — Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the law library and a storage room at the home of Atty. and Mrs. Macin E. Estill at 2:45 a. m. today.

The fire was discovered by Paul Kaser, who called the Millersburg fire department, which was able to save the rest of the home. Loss is estimated at about $1,000, according to Fire Chief Gordon Barton. It is believed that the fire started in the storage room, adjacent to the library.

SMASH WINDOW, DEFLATE TIRES

In Mansfield last night, a window of a car owned by Warren Canter, 104 Orchard street, was broken when a tomato was thrown through it, it was reported two autos were pushed into the middle of Orange street. Mollie Reagle, 98 Ohio street, reported her porch chairs thrown into a nearby ravine. three youngsters were apprehended after they let the air out of the tires of an auto on Fourth avenue.

Outside Mansfield, five boys were apprehended at the East Mansfield school when air was let out of the tires of autos owned by several members of the Men's club who were meeting at the school. Several gasoline tank caps were stolen, the keys from one car were taken, and many windows were soaped.

The boys were turned over to juvenile authorities.

The sheriff's department also received reports of vandalism on Cook, Trimble and Springmill roads last night.

Reports Theft of Radios From Home

Theft of two portable radios valued at $125 by a man who "posed as a radio repairman" was reported to police yesterday by Mrs. Josephine Blakey, 288 North Franklin avenue.

On the Democratic side Taft's colleague, James W. Huffman of Columbus, said, "I think the president pursued the proper course under the circumstances," and added:

If the people want meat and this will do it for them, then certainly it's the best thing."

Most meat and grocery men tempered their welcome with a warning that the counters would not be full tomorrow, although in Cincinnati Gus Juengling, president of the Cincinnati wholesale Meat Dealers' association, representing 17 packers there, said there would be "meat on Cincinnati's tables by Friday."

In Cleveland, Adam Guth, president of the National Retail Meat Dealers' association, predicted the action would put the black markdays behind."

But Harry A. Nation, secretary of the Columbus Retail Grocers' association who had asked the city's grocers to vote Republican and urge their customers to do likewise, said, "Don't expect meat to reappear overnight as if by magic. Remember, there's no backlog."

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. —Adv

What Is Wrong When Prayer Fails?

Thirty years ago, in Forbidden Tibet, behind the highest mountains in the world, a young Englishman named Edwin J. Dingle found the answer to this question. A great mystic opened his eyes. A great change came over him He realized the strange Power that Knowledge gives

That Power, he says, can transform the life of anyone Questions, whatever they are, can be answered. The problems of health, death, poverty and wrong, can be solved.

In his own case, he was brought back to splendid health. He acquired wealth, too, as well as world-wide professional recognition. Thirty years ago, he was sick as a man could be and live. Once his coffin was bought. Years of almost continuous tropical fevers, broken bones, near blindness, privation and danger had made a human wreck of him, physically and mentally.

He was about to be sent back to England to die, when a strange message came—"They are waiting for you in Tibet" He wants to tell the whole world what he learned there, under the guidance of the greatest mystic he ever encountered during his twenty-one years in the Far East. He wants everyone to experience the greater health and the Power, which there came to him.

Within ten years, he was able to retire to this country with a fortune He had been honored by fellowships in the World's leading geographical societies, for his work as a geographer. And today, 30 years later, he is still so athletic, capable of so much work, so young in appearance, it is hard to believe he has lived so long

As a first step in their progress toward the Power that Knowledge gives, Mr. Dingle wants to send to readers of this paper a 9,000-word treatise. He says the time has come for it to be released to the Western World, and offers to send it, free of cost or obligation, to sincere readers of this notice. For your free copy, address The Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. 60-B, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed —Adv.

Barclay On Bridge

We have all read and heard the definition of a "safety play" as "the intentional giving up of one or more tricks in order to increase the likelihood of making the contract." That has the same weakness as most bridge definitions, which ordinarily don't take in enough territory or else cover too much. A safety play may also be used to prevent too bad a defeat of the contract, even though it seems to give up all hope of making the contract.

Ordinarily you would expect South to take that out to 4-Spades, but with his even distribution and no ruffing chance, he unsoundly decided to let it alone. He was lucky his side did not lose an easy game because of his pass.

East made the obvious lead of his club K. North won and ran four spades, then led the heart K to the A. West sent back the diamond 6, whereupon North did a bit of counting. If he lost a finesse to East, the latter could murder him with clubs at 100 a trick. By taking the A, however, he could be sure of eight tricks and only down one, though he would thus apparently give up all chance gor game.

The risk of loss by the finesse was so great that he played the A and was overjoyed to see the K drop. That made it a cinch to get all the rest of the tricks except one, giving him two extras. In other words, this time the safety play did not cost the immediate sacrifice of any trick, but instead produced contract plus two more.
